GLOBAL RESPONSIBILITY.

OCEAN ALEXANDER takes pride in our dedication to tirelessly innovate methods to reduce waste and have made a conscientious commitment to the world around us. We actively engage in a variety of responsible practices that not only benefit our global environment, but we also believe it transcends to our workforce. Recycling has become paramount in our manufacturing process from our wood scraps and cabinetry by-products, to paper, metals, and even chemicals. Our factory is also fortunate to be in a zone of significant rainfall which allows for collected rainwater to be used in cleaning, landscaping, and service areas. These initiatives are not generally easy on our bottom line, but protecting the environment is a cause that reciprocates with peace of mind.

UNPARALLELED SUPPORT.

When you own an OCEAN ALEXANDER, you become a member of an exclusive suite of after-sales service, social events, and a concierge level of attention. With our annual Rendezvous and active owner network, we have created a world for our owners that does not end at the edge of the dock. This network of service continues to expand around the globe ensuring you will always have resources that allow you to travel free from worry.

COMMITMENT TO INDUSTRY.

Our commitment to the Marine Industry requires our team to look at the future, assess where comfort and functionality meet, and collectively bring it all together by collaborating with the finest naval and interior architects. Safety, efficiency, and sustainability drive every new venture and OCEAN ALEXANDER engineers have defined the top curve in yacht design. Our brand is often the inspiration for what you see in the yachts of tomorrow. We will continue to push innovation, discover more sophisticated manufacturing processes, and continue to re-define what true luxury can be.

ALLEGIANCE TO INNOVATION

OCEAN ALEXANDER takes exceptional performance to be paramount in luxury yacht building. Our team of relentless engineers have found the formula for developing magnificent yachts to encompass luxury, beauty, and speed while maintaining sound levels that allow you to take in the joyful sounds of the open ocean. We engage the finest interior architects and the most respected naval architects, allowing this synergy to take your senses to a higher level. None of this is new to OCEAN ALEXANDER. As we embark on the future, we push one another harder to stretch the boundaries of innovation, while respecting the accomplishments of yesterday.

COMMITMENT TO SAFETY

Once your journey begins out in the open sea, OCEAN ALEXANDER has taken every engineering detail to the highest level to ensure safe passage in sometimes challenging ocean conditions. While each vessel is prepared for moderate to high sea state conditions, your comfort and safety is our highest priority. The air intake ventilation for the engine room is recessed into the house and not the hull side resulting in less possibility of water intrusion. When OCEAN ALEXANDER builds and sources our components we generally look to vessels that exceed and nearly double our size classification. To say we overbuild is an understatement.

DEDICATION TO FUNCTIONALITY

Technology has become paramount in simplifying our daily lives and your yacht should be no different. OCEAN ALEXANDER has engaged with the finest system integration brought on from the aerospace industry and utilize Octoplex to command your vessel. The Octoplex system is not only believed to be the most sophisticated in the yacht industry, it is standard on all OCEAN ALEXANDER yachts and has been for nearly 15 years. Sophisticated, approachable, and designed for ease-of-use, this system has everyone in mind, it is as stunning as it is functional, not just for your captain and crew, but for you and your guests as well.

OBSESSION TO DETAIL

As with any beautiful structure, the details lie deep within. Our engine rooms are modeled after clean rooms in data and medical environments. From plumbing to electrical, every detail is given the utmost scrutiny as to access, function, and beautiful design. When possible, we provide the simplest accessibility for items that require regular service and finish off the space with high gloss paints and vapor proof commercial lighting.
